

Send-a-Student

Support the Next Generation of Veterinary Medicine

Contribute to the future of veterinary medicine with a Send-a-Student Sponsorship!

What is the Send-a-Student Program?

The Send-a-Student Program offers veterinarians the opportunity to sponsor a dedicated Colorado State University (CSU) Veterinary Student to attend CVMA's annual convention or BIG Ideas Forum. Sponsorship helps cover student registration fees as well as meals, transportation, and lodging.

Why is this program so important?

Do you remember how economically challenging it was to be a veterinary student? Do you appreciate what can be learned and shared at a CVMA convention or conference? Do you want to engage the next generation of your veterinarian colleagues?

Send-a-Student sponsorship not only provides CSU students with education experiences that complement their academic curriculum, but also helps them develop leadership skills through observing their role models in action and offers opportunities to connect and interact with practicing veterinarians from across Colorado.

I want to support a student... How do I participate?

Please fill out the sponsorship form on the reverse and submit to CVMA. Your contribution will be recognized in the CVMA VOICE, on our website, and onsite at CVMA's annual convention.

Your generous gift doesn't just Send-a-Student to a CVMA program - it helps build the future of veterinary medicine by cultivating the next generation of your colleagues!
